Mid-June 1611

Henry Hudson & crew weighed anchor and sailed to northward. Shortly Hudson depared Robert Bylot as mate and replaced him with a man that could neither read nor write. Somehow, word got out that Hudson had a private reserve of food for himself and his so-called friends.

When Henry Hudson stepped out of his cabin one day in June, he was grabbed by his crew.

board. The mutineers rounded up his parents - his son John, Passenger Wydowne & Quartermaster John King. They were bundled into the ship's Whallop (a small sailing ship) Staffs elected to join Hudson. The mutineers gave Staffs his chest, a gun, powder, shot, some meal and a pot. They then cut loose the Craft.
The mutineers sailed the Discovery home. Ratons
